Germans Reported Thrust Back at Every Key Point

Every Major Assault Said to Have Been Violently Repulsed Along 165-Mile Front in So-Called "Hinge" Sector

ENEMY LOSES 738 TANKS IN FIRST 24 HOURS

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Adolf Hitler's long-expected summer offensive appeared to have run into a buzzsaw of Soviet defenses today as the Red armies blocked every major thrust along a 165-mile front, killed 10,000 Germans and destroyed 738 Nazi tanks in the first 24 hours.

The German drive, launched just after dawn yesterday, struck on the so-called "hinge" sector 200 miles south of Moscow, in the region between Orel and Belgorod.

Battle dispatches said a series of violent assaults by German armored divisions and infantry had been flung back at all key points, with Nazi losses running as high as 50 per cent of their total attacking strength.

In two other great theaters of the war—the southwest Pacific and the Mediterranean—the tempo was rising sharply as the United Nations pounded against Japan's outer perimeter of defenses and against the southern ramparts of Europe.

In the Pacific, U. S. warships were reported engaging a Japanese naval force of undisclosed size for the second time in four days, compelling the enemy to risk at least part of his dwindling fleet in an attempt to check the eight-day-old American drive through the Solomon Islands.

Heavy Hostilities Reported Under Way in Belgorod Front

By WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
Moscow, July 6.—(P)—Victorious German thrusts by armored divisions and infantry have been flung back with heavy losses all along the 165-mile central front from Orel to Belgorod, the Russians reported today as the long-expected Nazi summer offensive moved into its second day.

Despite terrific destruction to their armored units, amounting in some cases to as high as 50 per cent of total attacking strength, the Nazi army kept boring into the heavily defended positions. In only isolated sectors, however, have they managed to penetrate the defense lines, Red army leaders said.

The Russian midnight communiqué said that in the initial hours of the battle Red army units destroyed 586 tanks and 203 planes.

The midday communiqué reported an additional 152 tanks were knocked out of the fight, including a number of the new Epyton Tiger Tanks. In one sector alone in the Orel-Kursk area, the bulletin said, Soviet troops destroyed 50 out of a German unit of 100 tanks. The communiqué also reported 4,000 Germans had been slain in this area and 2,000 more in an sector of the Belgorod front. Dispatches reaching Moscow from the front told of the start of the battle just after dawn yesterday.

The Nazis, these advices said, used classic tactics—a smashing artillery barrage coupled with heavy air bombardment designed to destroy Russian men and guns and blast a path through the Russian line for the German infantry and armored divisions.

The Germans were firing with everything they had—long range

Travel Curtailment Cuts Down Number of Fatalities

By the Associated Press
A nation forced to stay put, to a large extent, over the three-day July 4 holiday discovered today that wartime curtailment of highway travel saved scores of lives. Thousands of Americans had to forego motor trips to favorite fishing spots or back to Uncle Jim's farm, but many were alive and whole to tell about being a wartime homebody instead of being received at a morgue or a hospital. True, an Associated Press survey showed that at least 298 deaths occurred over the weekend but only 127 of these were traffic fatalities. There were 84 drownings and 87 deaths from miscellaneous causes.

Forty-one states and the District of Columbia reported fatalities. The 127 highway deaths were more than 100 fewer than a conservative pre-holiday estimate by the National Safety Council whose experts figured between 250 and 300 would die while driving. Last year, the first wartime July 4 holiday, there were 320 traffic deaths and in 1941 before gas-tire-auto restrictions there were 500. This year, also, not a single fire-work death was reported. Deaths by states from traffic accidents, drownings and miscellaneous causes in that order, included: Maryland 4 4 0, New Jersey 7 2 5 and Pennsylvania 10 0 0.

FORTRESSES SHOOT DOWN 30 FIGHTERS

Paralyzing Blows at Enemy Resistance Are Struck In Conflict For Air Supremacy

DROP 375,000 POUNDS

By BELMAN MORIN
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, July 6.—(P)—Allied air forces, spearheaded by U. S. Flying Fortresses, which shot down 30 German fighters, struck paralyzing blows at Axis resistance yesterday in battles for air supremacy over Sicily and Sardinia, it was announced today.

The smashing aerial offensive against the Italian outpost islands went through its third straight day with bombers roaring over Gerbini, Marsala, Licata, Sciacca and Catania in Sicily and Villacidro in Sardinia—all of them bases for the defending Axis aerial fleets.

In 24 hours ending yesterday, 42 enemy planes were shot down against a loss of 12 Allied planes, it was stated officially.

More than 60 Liberator Bombers based in the Middle East joined in the devastating raids, shaking Messina in Sicily with nearly 375,000 pounds of bombs, a communiqué of the U. S. Ninth Air Force declared.

Hits blanketing the ferry terminal installations in Messina "caused extensive damage," the communiqué said, and bombs were laid on railway tracks, a roundhouse, a warehouse, freight yards, oil tanks and barracks by the Liberators, striking in three waves. One string of bombs "fell across the Lazaretto mole."

The Liberators downed three enemy planes and returned without loss themselves.

Flying Fortresses striking at Gerbini won what is considered one of the greatest single-mission victories of the entire Mediterranean campaign by knocking down 30 of more than 100 German fighters attacking them.

One of the greatest individual victories emerged too, when Staff Sgt. Benjamin Warner, of San Francisco, destroyed seven fighters. Despite the spectacular and seemingly suicidal tactics of the Germans, the Fortresses successfully reached and bombed Gerbini, where they showered explosives over the main airfield and nine satellite fields.

Less than 30 of the big four-engine craft participated in the raid. Outnumbered about four to one, they shot down an average of one enemy plane apiece and destroyed an estimated 25 more (Turn to Page Seven)

Rep. Weiss Is Irked By New O. P. A. Ruling

Washington, July 6.—(P)—Representative Weiss (D-Pa.) said today he had ordered ration boards in his district, the 30th Pennsylvania, which takes in part of Allegheny county (Pittsburgh), to ignore a ruling by the Office of Price Administration (OPA) denying supplementary gasoline rations to service men home on furlough.

Weiss made public a letter in which he told John R. Richards, chief of the OPA gas rationing division.

The Allegheny county lawyer said he was a believer "in a government of law," but that he could not agree "with the asinine regulations that enraged loyal patriotic Americans throughout the country."

Weiss repeated his objection made to the OPA some time ago that to permit supplementary gas (Turn to Page Seven)

DIRECTOR NAMED FOR PENN. STATE GUARD

Harrisburg, July 6.—(P)—Governor Martin today appointed Milton G. Baker, superintendent of Valley Forge Military Academy, to direct training of the Pennsylvania State Guard.

"The purpose of this is to aid in the efficiency of the guard," declared the executive in announcing the appointment at his press conference.

The three regiments of the State Guard will hold their summer encampment at the Indiantown Gap military reservation from July 31 to August 21.

Fightin' Mad

First photograph of Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones taken since his verbal battle with Vice President Henry Wallace shows he is up in arms. Jones demands congressional investigation of charges brought against him by Wallace.

FEUD CAUSES REACTION IN THE SENATE

Vice President Wallace and RFC Board Chairman Apparently Warming Up in Slugging Match

DEMANDS FOR PROBE

By TOM REEDY
Washington, July 6.—(P)—Six-foot-two Jesse Jones, the administration's banker, and Vice President Henry Wallace, who outwrestled senator at the stage-door canteen, apparently were only warming up in their week-long verbal slugging match. Today, their appraisals of each other had hit a new high in recrimination. The latest explosion—over the policies of Wallace's Board of Economic Warfare (BEW) and Jones' Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) widened the rift so far that perhaps only the firm and personal touch of President Roosevelt can heal it. His trouble-shooter, James F. Byrnes, failed when he made an initial attempt.

Jones, accused by Wallace of holding up BEW's purchases of strategic war materials, opened up both barrels last night. He used 7,500 words to tell what he thinks about Wallace—none of it complimentary. In Wallace's absence, his second, Milo Perkins of BEW, took up the cudgels and shot back that Jones and his RFC had acted like the fabled sleeper, Rip Van Winkle. Jones addressed his remarks to the senate appropriations committee. Perkins replied in a letter to the same group.

There was prompt reaction in the senate. Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) declared he was renewing his demand for an investigation of the exchanges, to be handled by the military affairs committee. "Congress ought to find out who is right," he said.

Bridges' resolution for an inquiry lies in the banking committee which has indicated little desire to get into the ruckus.

The senate committee on post-war planning may make an exhaustive investigation of the BEW's operations, Senator George (D-Ga.) disclosed, however.

NEW WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN

Philadelphia, July 6.—(P)—Ellsworth A. Roberts, new chairman of Pennsylvania's War Finance Committee, announced today that conferences of regional and county chairmen will be held soon to plan the state's part in the $18,000,000,000 war loan campaign to start Sept. 9.

Last Victim Is Identified At Marienville

Marienville, July 6.—(P)—The last of the eight persons killed in a head-on collision early on the morning of July 4 of two automobiles near this northwestern Pennsylvania community was identified last night as two of five others injured in the crash were discharged from a Brookville hospital.

Seven of the bodies were badly charred by fire which swept the wreckage. The victims were: Robert J. Strom, 15, Elmira, N. Y., R. D. 2; Owen D. Brown, 15, four children, Orisison, 15, Catherine, 14, Edith, 10, and Richard, 8, all of Elmira, R. D. 2; Mrs. Catherine Boland, 30, of Akron, O., and Carl M. Wood, of Ithaca, N. Y., R. D. 1.

Hospital attendants said the condition of Carl J. Pavlek of Akron, who suffered a skull fracture and other injuries, continued critical.

The Brown family were enroute to Niles, O., to get Brown's wife, who was visiting relatives.

Thieves Take Car as Owners Use Trolley

Bryn Mawr, July 6.—(P)—Because of the pleasure driving ban, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Worthington took the trolley to their golf club. Less scrupulous, thieves stole their roadster and used up most of the gasoline while they were away.

How American Forces Drive on Munda

Thousands Of Miners Are Flocking Back

Two More Furnaces Are Fired By U. S. Steel Corporation

WORK OVER HOLIDAY

Pittsburgh, July 6.—(P)—Thousands of the final group of 50,000 striking miners shuffled back to the pits today with district leaders of the United Mine Workers predicting virtually all of the nation's 521,000 coal workers would be back on the job by nightfall.

Reports from the far-flung fields showed mines employing approximately 470,000 men operated yesterday—the first time the men had worked on a July 4 holiday. They received three and one half pay and will get the same rate Saturday if they work every day this week.

Quickly reflecting the increased activity in the coal pits was the firing of two more blast furnaces by the U. S. Steel Corporation, leaving six still down. A week ago the corporation had closed 14, giving the coal shortage as the reason.

Early reports today showed virtually all mines operating excepting some in Pennsylvania and a few in Tennessee.

Production increased in the Pennsylvania anthracite fields, where the office of J. J. Forbes, federal administrator of the mines, estimated 49,000 of the region's 83,000 miners worked yesterday. (Turn to Page Seven)

200,000 Visit Resort Areas

Philadelphia, July 6.—(P)—They stood in the aisles and they rode in converted horse cars, but an estimated 200,000 persons who left the Philadelphia area over the holiday weekend were back home today after the greatest transportation jam of the war.

A steady stream of Pennsylvania Reading seashore trains carried more than 57,000 from Atlantic City alone, the railroad announced, while throngs returning from other New Jersey resorts in 13 extra trains swelled the total.

Bus facilities also were taxed to the limit. The Office of Price Administration kept agents on duty between Philadelphia and seashore points, checking on suspected pleasure drivers. Myron M. Caffey, chief OPA enforcement officer, said 233 drivers were cited on two Delaware river bridges.

Caffey said 73 violations were noted at Allentown and 61 at Bethlehem, besides 178 in Philadelphia.

Here's Swell Way To Observe Anniversary

A Flying Fortress Base in North Africa, July 6.—(P)—Staff Sgt. Benjamin F. Warner, 3rd, of San Francisco, watched seven German fighter planes plunge downward in flames over Gerbini yesterday, from the fire of his machine-guns, and they reminded him of something.

It was his seventh wedding anniversary.

Deficiency Measure In Conference

Washington, July 6.—(P)—A senate attempt to revoke a death sentence on the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) reopened an old controversy with the house today amid concerted efforts to complete congressional action by nightfall of four remaining appropriation bills.

The senate voted to house demands yesterday and agreed to include in the $848,295,883 farm bill a provision limiting the FCIC to $3,500,000, with orders to liquidate. This action was taken to speed the farm bill to the White House.

Subsequently, however, the senate wrote into a $366,418,748 second deficiency appropriations bill an amendment raising the FCIC appropriation to $7,818,748, which would allow it to continue to pay another year writing insurance on wheat and cotton.

The deficiency measure, in which the senate increased house allowances from $36,158,000 to $366,418,748, went to a conference committee today for consideration of changes.

"Educational Blackout" Set For Next Thursday Evening

The State Council of Defense today set Thursday, July 8, for an "educational" blackout—a night test staged with instructions on every detail being given over 45 radio stations.

Dr. Ralph Cooper Hutchison, Executive Director of the State Council, in announcing the drill—believed to be the first state-wide blackout of its kind in United States—urged everyone possible to listen in on their radio during the blackout.

Every detail of the active part of the test will be announced in advance and the radio network will carry full instructions almost every minute of the test, Dr. Hutchison declared. The first announcement disclosed that the "yellow" will be flashed over the "black box" warning system at 10:10 P. M., July 8—the first time this "confidential" warning for hospitals, physicians and defense officials" has been publicized in advance of a test.

SEA BATTLE IS REPORTED IN PROGRESS

Japanese and American Warships Said to Be in Engagement in the Kula Gulf

TROOPS CLAIM GAINS

Allied Headquarters in Australia, July 6.—(P)—The Solomons area of the Pacific offensive flamed with continued action both on the sea, where American warships daringly moved above the ground front into Kula Gulf, and in the air over newly-seized Rendova island, the high command reported today.

A navy communiqué from Washington Monday night indicated Japanese and American warships were in a battle in the Kula Gulf. The Tuesday noon communiqué from headquarters of Gen. Douglas MacArthur made no reference to such a battle but did confirm an earlier announcement from Washington that United States warships in the gulf had shelled Japanese positions.

(Progress for U. S. ground troops in the central Solomons also was evidenced in official reports from South Pacific headquarters to the effect that Americans have gained control of Vangunu island in the face of stubborn Japanese resistance. Capture of strategically important Vira village on the south coast of Vangunu, which lies southwest of New Georgia, had been announced previously from Washington and Australia, and this success apparently hastened the fall of the entire island.)

Fires at the enemy air base of Vila, Kolumbangara island, on the west side of Kula Gulf, and at Bairoko anchorage, New Georgia, on the east side were set both by the shells of the warships and bombs dropped by Mitchell medium bombers the night of July 4 and in the pre-dawn of July 5. Later, dive bombers dropped 1,000-pound bombs on Bairoko which is above the menaced enemy air base of Munda, also in New Georgia. (Turn to Page Seven)

Details Of Engagement Are Lacking

Washington, July 6.—(P)—The navy reported today that on the basis of incomplete information United States naval forces apparently had caused the Japanese very heavy damage in the battle of Kula Gulf.

Details of the action, fought yesterday (Solomon Islands Time) and apparently all over now, still were lacking, but there was no disposition in authoritative quarters here to consider it as a major encounter with decisive bearing on the Solomons campaign.

The impression prevailed rather that it was an action between fairly light surface forces of cruisers and destroyers. Whether bombing planes participated was not known.

At the same time the navy announced that the United States destroyer Strong was torpedoed and sunk Sunday night while engaged in a previously announced bombardment of Japanese installations at Vila and Bairoko on Kula Gulf, which lies between New Georgia island and Kolumbangara island in the Munda airbase area.

Quiet Fourth Celebrated In Warren

What with the war, gasoline scarce and pelting rain drops Warren had its most quiet Fourth of July in history. Only a few bangs from a cannon some place on the South Side roused echoes in the valley while fire crackers were simply nil. Back in the good old days when Warren did not have a celebration Phillip Beglar and Mike Regner, Civil War veterans went over on the South Side and in the shade of the big chestnut trees shot off the old Civil War cannon that is still resting in Crescent Park. They fired a salute on Memorial Day and on Fourth of July gave 'er a few extra loud bangs. Then the kids with fire crackers started a tattoo and later in the were marked.

But on July 4 this year silence reigned supreme. The flags that were out dripped with rain drops. The swish of cars was infrequent. The swish of the old Civil War cannon that is still resting in Crescent Park. They fired a salute on Memorial Day and on Fourth of July gave 'er a few extra loud bangs. Then the kids with fire crackers started a tattoo and later in the were marked.

Scarcity of opalidock at the liquor store helped keep the folks from becoming boisterous and when history is written July 4, 1943 will go down as "the quietest ever".

Swimming To Be Taught By The Red Cross

Harold Bush, director of first aid and water safety for the Warren County Red Cross Chapter, announces today that arrangements have been completed for functional swimming training of all persons 17 years and over who may leave the continent on military duty.

All persons in the above category residing in Warren county are urged to register at once for training at the local Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market street. As soon as a sufficient number is enrolled, the first class will be started, the local Y. M. C. A. pool to be used for either day or evening periods.

Persons with a fair knowledge of swimming may complete the course in 20 hours. Those with less ability will be given basic swimming practice before stepping into the functional skills.

The 20-hour course is divided into four phases as follows:

1. Fundamental aquatic skills—Floating, breast stroke, side stroke, elementary back stroke, underwater swimming, treading water, entering water head or feet first.

Useful variations of basic aquatic skills—Swimming and floating in a restricted area, swimming silently and with splash recovery, with legs and one arm and swimming with legs alone, plunge diving, leaping— from heights feet foremost.

2. Application of skills to service conditions—Swimming fully clothed, with equipment, carrying weapons under water, leaping from heights fully clothed.

3. Personal safety, rescue and resuscitation—Release of leg cramps, disrobing in deep water, inflating clothing for support, "shirt-tail" lifesaving rescue methods.

Those who complete this training will be fitted to cope with the common emergencies attending ocean crossings, water-borne invasions and tactical operations involving water crossings. It is due to lack of such aquatic experience that many lives are now being needlessly lost. The training will be given by Red Cross water safety instructors skilled in life-saving and functional swimming.

THOUGHTS ON RATIONING

From now on we shall talk about rationing with a clear conscience, and when somebody inquires caustically if we think we know more about pronunciation than Webster's dictionary does, we shall sniff haughtily and refer the needler to the American Speech Quarterly, published by Columbia University.

There he (the needler) can discover as did we (the erstwhile bewildered) that the lexicographer slipped up when he said the word should be pronounced ration rather than ration.

Kemp Malone of Johns Hopkins has discovered, and the Columbia University Department of Public Information passes on the news in four pages and almost 1000 words, that once upon a time there used to be two words—ration and ration.

One had its roots in Latin, and was a doublet for ratio, and meant "the relation between two similar magnitudes in respect to quantity." By rhyming ration with relation, it becomes clear that this one was pronounced ration. But about 1815, soon after the burning of Washington, this word became obsolete and disappeared from dictionaries.

The other had its roots in French, and referred to the daily portion of food served to soldiers and sailors, which obviously makes it the lineal ancestor of the word that is causing Prentiss Brown to lose his sleep, his hair and his hope for a happy hereafter. This word had nothing to do with relations, who did not share in the soldier's daily allotment of food, and so, perhaps to distinguish it clearly, it was pronounced with the French "a" which made it become ration.

So it develops that the word in which we are interested should have been pronounced ration all along, and not ration, because ration was dropped out of the dictionary more than a century and a quarter ago and now is anachronistic.

The misunderstanding never would have arisen, and given us opportunity to clear it all up as we now have, but for radio announcers, who looked ration up in the dictionary and found that it could be pronounced either ration or ration, but that ration is preferred.

But the soldiers never were fooled. They continued to say ration, and so did most of us, though a few purists insisted upon muddling us all up by saying ration.

If you are still in doubt, here is a little couplet which we tossed together on the spur of the moment:

It's the fashion
To ration.

Remember that, and you can't go wrong, though you may become involved in arguments.

"AS WE GO MARCHING ON"

The booklet published by the Warren National Bank in commemoration of the bank's 50th anniversary was welcomed to the editor's desk last week. Along with the Warren National, this newspaper and many other local businesses can trace their records back to 50 years ago or longer, and the first news articles and advertising of the bank appeared in the columns of this paper's predecessor.

The Warren National's booklet is interesting especially to some of us "old timers" because the brief description of the town as it was in 1893 brings to mind many scenes and personal experiences in our own lives. The booklet should be equally interesting to young people because of its description of the town and its institutions as they were 50 years ago. If the young people could be transported suddenly into such a community they would be more surprised than they have been impressed by similar scenes in their modern motion pictures.

Along with its history of the community the bank has presented the essential facts showing its continuous and steady progress from 1893 to 1943 and its growth in deposits at the present time to thirty times the amount at the end of the first year's business. Present-day services are described and the entire booklet is written and illustrated in a way that will make it happily acceptable in every home.

The Times-Mirror joins with all the community in congratulating the bank and its officers on their record.

One would imagine that Vice President Wallace and Secretary Jones would be too busy with the war effort to have time to keep on feuding!

One of the pleasing developments over the long holiday was the fact that most of the miners returned to the pits.

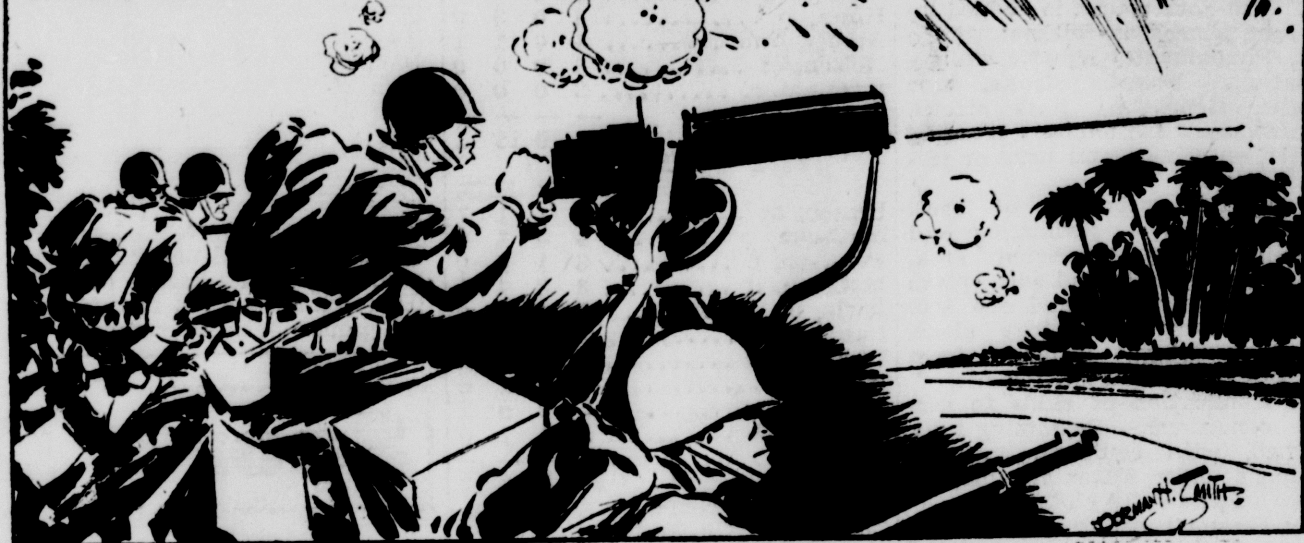

Warren's Independence Day celebration seems to have been so safe and sane that there were not even any bomb scares.

Washington In Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

COLUMBUS, O. — Every state has its political characters, but Ohio's "Little Joe" Ferguson belongs in the "It-can't-happen-here" column.

Joseph T. Ferguson is the state auditor and the only Democratic elective officer in the state capitol building. He's five-feet-four, still young enough to have a lot of politics ahead of him, and the father of eight children between seven and 20 years old.

In 1940, while Republican Gov. John W. Bricker was piling up a 360,000-vote over Martin L. Davey, "Little Joe" was kicking his Republican opponent by around 45,000 votes. Any man who can register that kind of statewide upset is either a pest or political genius — depending on whether you're a-gin him or for him.

THE amusing story, however, is how this little state house Democratic lone-wolf threw a monkey wrench into the Republican plans for holding caucuses of the Republican governors at the annual governors' conference here. Harrison E. Spangler, chairman of the national Republican committee, had announced that he would be here for a few between-session conferences with the Republican state executives.

About a week before the annual governors' conference was to convene, "Little Joe" started noising about with plans for "a caucus of Democratic governors."

Gov. John W. Bricker, host to the conference, must have seen immediately the prospect of the whole thing becoming a political shindig. He got in touch with Spangler and Spangler quickly discovered he "had business to attend to in Chicago" and just couldn't possibly make connections here.

"Little Joe" held his party, but there wasn't anything political about it. As a matter of fact, only a few of the Democratic state executives showed for the purely social affair. Nevertheless, you can understand why "Little Joe" is a thorn in the side of Ohio's otherwise Republican state government.

WHEN it came to personal charm — that political "it" that has little to do with the executive record, but a lot to do with reelections — visitors at the governors' conference were almost unanimous in their opinions that it was nip-etec between host Governor Bricker; Governor Earl Warren of California; and Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

However, observers generally credited the "best speech" to the youngest governor attending—36-year-old Ellis Arnall, of Georgia. In spite of his youth, chubby Mr. Arnall has a decade of political experience to his credit. His comments on state cooperation in the military training program were to-the-point and well-applauded, but no less so than his interview statements.

HARVEY & CAREY

A MESSAGE TO EVERY AMERICAN FROM THE PRESIDENT

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

June 24, 1943

My dear Mr. Secretary:

Through you, as Secretary of the Treasury, I want to congratulate the American people on the way in which they have supported the voluntary payroll savings plan.

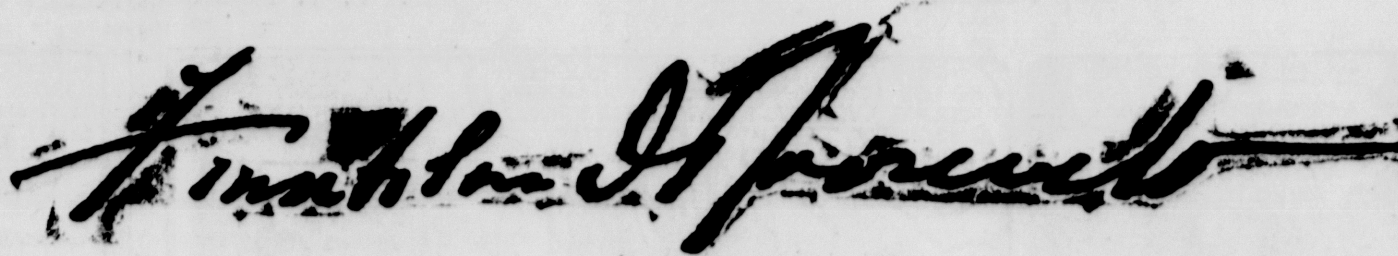

I am proud of the fact that 27,000,000 patriotic Americans are regularly investing more than $420,000,000 a month to help pay the cost of the war. And since all of this money comes from wages and salaries — nearly 90 percent from people earning less than $5,000, and the bulk of it from those working in war plants — I do not hesitate to say that the payroll savings plan is the greatest single factor we now have in protecting ourselves against inflationary spending.

This is a great record, both from the standpoint of curbing inflation and from the standpoint of financing the war. However, I heartily endorse your present drive to improve that record, and I agree it must be improved if we are to keep pace with the increasing demands of the war.

I therefore join you in calling upon the American people -- and upon labor and management particularly -- to do still more. Additional people should be convinced of the necessity of participating. Everyone now on the payroll savings plan should materially increase the amount of bonds he is buying. We originally asked for 10 percent, but now we need considerably more.

I hope every American on a payroll will figure out for himself the extent to which he can curtail his spending, and will put every dollar of additional saving thus made into the payroll savings plan.

Sincerely yours,

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Treasury

FURTHER REDUCTION IN NEWSPRINT COMING

Washington, July 6.—(P)—The War Production Board today ordered newspaper publishers to reduce further their consumption of newsprint during 1943's third quarter. The cut ranges up to five percent for large users.

The additional five per cent reduction does not apply to the first 25 tons for newspapers using less than 500 tons a quarter. This provision, WPB said, designed to aid the operation of smaller newspapers.

Last December 31 newspapers were limited each quarter to 100 per cent of the tonnage of paper used in printing their net paid circulation during the corresponding quarter of 1941, plus a three percent allowance for production waste. It was estimated at the time this requirement meant an overall reduction in current newsprint consumption of about ten percent.

Rally Day Held Sunday Was Pleasing

The year 1943 is being celebrated by Seventh Day Adventists throughout the world as the 90th anniversary of the Sabbath school organization of that denomination, the local church at 614 Fourth avenue joining in the widespread observance.

A "rally day" service held last Sunday will be followed by a special service at eight o'clock tomorrow evening. Speakers will be Miss Ernestine Hockschorner, of Pittsburgh, Sabbath school secretary of the West Pennsylvania Conference, and Miss Rosamond Ginter, of Washington, D. C., who writes the Sabbath school lessons used by boys and girls of the denomination and has also written books for Sabbath school teachers. The public is cordially invited to this service.

The first Seventh Day Adventist Sabbath schools of which there is any record were conducted in Rochester and Bucksbridge, N. Y., 1853. Today, there are more than 14,000 of them throughout the world, with nearly 650,000 members scattered from Hammerfest,

Norway, within the Arctic Circle to the southernmost point of the world in Tierra del Fuego in South America. Every Sabbath these schools study the Bible lesson in more than 820 languages. While the war has caused many foreign leaders to leave their stations, in many instances they were able to train natives to carry on in a noble way in the absence of their leaders.

Everybody Reads the Times-Mirror

It was at a press conference soon after the bombing of Tokyo by the Immortal Doolittle. President Roosevelt was asked where the bombers came from. He replied: "From Shangri-la." Thus "Shangri-la," name of a mythical land in James Hilton's novel, "Lost Horizon," became in an instant a name that rang around the world.

Now a real "Shangri-la" is to be built; a giant new aircraft carrier which will carry destruction to the enemy. It will be built by the nickels, dimes, pennies, quarters, dollars, of American men, women and children. It will be built with the help of the Retailers of America.

Metzger-Wright's is now engaged in aiding this "Retailers for Victory" movement to help raise the necessary money to build this mystery ship, by staging a contest among its co-workers, with a goal set of $1,000 in War Stamps to be sold by them during the month of July. This will be their contribution toward "Shangri-la". This will mean that each co-worker must sell at least one dollar's worth of War Stamps each day. They are asking your help, asking that you

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO HOME CANNERS

The Glass Top Seal Fruit Jar Cap for Home Canning was developed as a Wartime product to conserve metal. It consists of a Metal Band, Glass Lid and Rubber Ring.

Because of the difference in the nature of these three materials this Cap must be used differently from any other fruit jar cap. If used properly it will give excellent results. If not used properly, results will be bad, including failure to seal and breakage of jars. Following are simple instructions for use of the Glass Top Seal Cap and must be followed carefully.

1. Do NOT use in Oven Canning.
2. If processing, (cooking in jar), leave 1 inch space in top of jar. If using open kettle, leave 1/2 inch space in top of jar.
3. Fit rubber around projection on bottom side of lid.
4. Place lid so rubber lies between lid and top edge of jar.
5. Turn bands tight, then loosen slightly (about 1/4 turn). Bands must fit loosely during processing (cooking). This is important and must be done to insure best results. If using Open Kettle, screw bands tight as soon as jar is filled.
6. After processing, screw bands tight to complete seal. Remove bands 12 hours after canning.

DO NOT TURN FILLED JARS UPSIDE DOWN
